Wild Turkeys Live Well On Edge Of Woods

A recently completed study of the food habits of Virginia's wild turkeys may lead to a change in the generally accepted belief that the turkey is a wilderness species preferring large areas of unbroken forest land, according to a report issued by the Virginia Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries. The study, carried out as a part of the Commission's study of the abundance and distribution of wild turkeys in Virginia, revealed that wild turkeys take nearly 700 different items of food during the year, including large amounts of corn, soybeans, and other crops. The study also revealed that wild turkeys are not as dependent on forest land as previously believed, and that they are more adaptable to human habitation than previously thought.

Produce Center
Appomattox has the enviable reputation of being one of the best towns in Virginia for its produce. A number of local stores make a specialty of delivering to market the great variety of produce items which the farm lands of the county can or exchange for merchandise.

Senate passes the draft bill
Some hall damage was done in the country yesterday afternoon. Senator Hiram Johnson was re-nominated in California.

Death of Saul
So Saul died for his transgression which he transmitted against the Lord, which he kept not, and also for asking counsel of one that had a familiar spirit, to enquire of it.—I Chronicles 10:13.

Temptation
To resist temptation one is not a sufficient proof of honesty.

Roots of Evil
To abolish evil its roots must be dug up and exposed in the sunlight, where they will wither and perish. These roots thrive underground and are cancerous.

No More Vanity
Ye shall see no more vanity, nor divine delusions; for I will deliver my people out of your hand; and ye shall know that I am the Lord.—Isaiah 37:35.

South Boston Festival

South Boston, August 29. "To-bacco Maid," a drama depicting the omens of Poo-hon-tah with Captain John Smith and John Rolfe, will be a major feature of the sixth annual National Tobacco Festival, to be held here September 5 and 6. This production will be the largest outdoor play ever staged in Virginia.

Regular Ruritan Meeting
Tuesday, September 3 is the regular meeting night for the Appomattox Ruritan Club.

Teachers' Meeting
Appomattox county white school teachers will meet here Wednesday, September 11 for their annual meeting prior to school opening. The white schools open September 12.

TownToSurface "Mud Street" This Fall

The Town Council of Appomattox voted to hard-surface what is known as "Mud Street" at its regular monthly meeting on Monday night. The work will be done this fall. The street will first receive a layer of gravel, and then a layer of concrete. The project has been held in abeyance for several years on account of shortage of town funds available for such purposes. This year, the town had about $10,000 in its budget, and elected to do this hard surfacing job instead of applying the sum on the town indebtedness or use it for the purchase of a new town truck, or several other improvements under discussion.
